

Seamus Morrison, Customer Service Rep. HGS

“ HGS is a great company to work for, I've been here three months now working on the NHS campaign and couldn't be happier. HGS have a great training program so I've improved my computer skillset and had no problems navigating through their systems, backroom support is always there if you get stuck. Working for the last three months from home, I thought I might feel isolated working from home but it has turned out to be the best part of the job by far. no journey time to and from work is a new experience for me, all you have to do is put your headset on, click a button and your instantly connected to your team at work, click the button again and your back in your living room, how handy is that?